

8. What would you wear if you were going to Los Angeles? Would you wear the same clothing in Billings? Why?

9. If you were traveling from El Paso, Texas, to New York, would you be going to a warmer or colder area? What direction would you be traveling? If you travel from Atlanta to Seattle, what direction are you going and is it getting warmer or colder? Can you draw any conclusions from this?

10. Which of these skills did you use to solve these problems? Circle them:

- | | |
|-----------------------|---|
| Reading | Understanding north, south, east and west |
| Reading a map | Adding and subtracting |
| Interpreting a map | Writing in complete sentences |
| Getting the main idea | Understanding whole numbers |

Using your computer go to AccuWeather.com on the Internet and do the following exercises:

- On the home page, click on the “iSight” link. Select “Buffalo, NY” for the camera location. What are the weather conditions in Buffalo?
- Type the ZIP code for your town on the home page in the appropriate box. What will the high and low temperature be in 5 days? Will there be any rain or snow in 10 days? In 15 days, will it be sunny, cloudy, or a mixture of both?

